SUBJECT: NASA Headquarters Safety Awareness Campaign

As part of NASA's commitment to safety in its employees' personal and work lives, Headquarters is pleased to announce its first safety awareness campaign. This campaign will begin the third week of June 2001 and last throughout the remainder of the calendar year. The theme is NEW ATTITUDE FOR SAFETY AWARENESS.

Mr. Goldin will begin the campaign with a kickoff speech in the auditorium at 10 a.m. on June 20, 2001. This will be followed by a joint proclamation signing with all the Associate Administrators pledging their personal time and efforts to increasing safety awareness throughout Headquarters.

You too can join in by signing a joint proclamation for employees in the West Lobby during the week 18 - 22 June. Safety and health related information pamphlets will also be available during the week. Don't miss out! Come sign the employee safety proclamation and make your commitment to a safe and healthful working environment.

Contact your designated Code Collateral Duty Safety Representative if you have any questions.
